

Predator's reunion

Devourer sighed loudly from boredom, then took a sip from his drink. It was a surprisingly slow evening at the Prey Place. Usually the large purple goo dragon would have had his pick of eager prey competing for his attention, but tonight the place was practically deserted. The only other predator in the room that evening was a large anthro gator in a corner booth, who was noisily making out with a much smaller human, the only potential prey there. The gator's jaws were clamped over their face, and even from across the room Devourer could faintly hear the lewd slurping sounds of the gator's thick tongue working over the man's face and mouth. The man squirmed as he was pinned to the bench by the gator's bulk. The bartender timidly approached and refilled Devourer's drink for him.

"Where is everybody tonight? I've never seen it like this in here before!" Devourer complained to the bartender, who simply shrugged.

"It happens every once in a while sir. Don't worry, I'm sure there will be plenty of prey for you tomorrow night!" the bartender replied, then quickly moved down to the relative safety of the other end of the bar. Working there didn't necessarily protect him from becoming a potential meal, and he wouldn't have been the first bartender to have been eaten on the job. Devourer sighed again, and rested his head on his hand as he turned his gaze to the TV behind the bar. He became so spaced out as he watched TV, he didn't even notice that somebody had sat down next to him until they spoke.

"So this is the bar you've been texting me about. Seems pretty dead in here!" the person said to him. Devourer instantly recognized that voice, and turned in surprise to see David grinning at him from the stool next to his.

"David!" Devourer exclaimed in delight, and immediately reached over to envelop the black goo wolf into a crushing hug.

“It’s good to see you too Dev!” David said with a laugh, as his and Dev’s gooey flesh briefly melded together in an intimate hug. Dev finally released him, and sat back to look the wolf over. It had been almost a year since he had last seen him. David’s dark purple eyes matched Dev’s skin color, and the wolf’s claws were the same glowing red as Dev’s horns and shoulder spikes. Fitting colors, since Dev was the one who had converted him from a regular wolf to the goo wolf he was now. Dev noticed that David had grown quite a bit since his conversion. Originally David had been a little over 6ft tall, but now Dev estimated the wolf was about 10ft tall. Impressive, but still quite a bit shorter than Dev’s 16ft height. With enough time and prey though, David could some day potentially match Dev in size.

“Wow, it’s so good to see you David! I see you’ve grown!” Dev said, the pride in his voice was obvious.

“I’m getting there, slowly but surely! Still a ways to go to catch up with you though!” David teased. Dev grinned at him, still slightly shocked that David was there in person.

“I’m sorry it’s so dead in here, usually this place is brimming with prey! You must be disappointed after how much I hyped this place up!” Dev apologized.

“Ah, it’s ok, I’m just thrilled to see you again!” David said, placing his hand on Dev’s arm.

“It’s been much too long” Dev agreed, then motioned to the bartender. David ordered a drink, and then the two of them began filling each other in on what they had been up to over the last year.

A group of three friends walked down the street together. They were in town on vacation, and had decided to check out the local area around the hotel.

“Are you sure this is the right way?” Joel asked Dan, who confidently led Bob and him down the sidewalk as if he knew the area, despite having never been there before.

“Of course! I memorized the directions from the map app, it’s definitely this way” Dan told them arrogantly.

“So the concierge said this place was popular with anthros? That would be so cool, there’s barely any where we live, I’ve always wanted to hang out with one! Not to mention I hear anthros can be pretty promiscuous, I wouldn’t mind hooking up with one either!” Joel said with a chuckle.

“Geez, stop thinking with you dick Joel! Hey, this is it!” Dan said excitedly, pointing to the bar sign.

“The Prey Place? That’s a weird name!” Joel said. “It has two doors?” There was an entrance door suited for the human’s size, but also a much larger door next to it. The smaller door had a sign labeled “Prey” above it, the larger door’s sign said “Predators”.

“You think that’s weird, look at this sign by the prey door!” Bob exclaimed, and began to read it aloud to the other two men. “By entering the Prey Place you are accepting the risk that you may become a meal for a predator, as this location is a well known gathering spot for them. The Prey Place management and its predator patrons are not liable for loss of life of anybody who enters this establishment. You have been warned!” Bob finished nervously.

”Pfft, sounds like it’s just a gimmick to bring in more customers! Come on, let’s go in” Dan said. The three men were slightly disappointed to see the bar was mostly empty. They all briefly gawked at the anthro gator in the corner making out with somebody. The only thing that could be seen of the other person was their arms clinging weakly to the gator’s thick neck.

“Damn, this place is pretty deserted” Joel sighed.

“Maybe those two at the bar would like some company? C’mon, let’s go talk to them!” Dan suggested, pointing to the large wolf and dragon at the far end of the bar, then heading in their direction. Joel and Bob followed Dan, but they hesitated slightly as they got closer and realized just how massive the dragon and wolf actually were. Their heads had been close together in quiet conversation, but they stopped talking, and both turned to look down at the three men as they approached. Even Dan seemed to lose some of his bravado when he realized just how huge the two anthros were as they got closer. His eyes widened when he noticed their unusual, slowly moving gooey flesh, but he still mustered up the courage to talk to them.

“Hey guys, we heard this place was a good spot to meet anthros, but it seems a little dead in here!” Dan said, then chuckled nervously. Dev and David exchanged a glance, then grinned slyly at each other.

“Yea, it is a little slow in here tonight, but you’re welcome to join us. This is my friend David, and my name is Devourer, but you can call me Dev” Dev told them. David nodded in greeting.

”Devourer...that’s...an interesting name” Dan said uncertainly. But sure, we’ll hang out with you guys! I’m Dan, and these are my friends Joel and Bob”

“Nice to meet you. You’re gonna have to grab some smaller stools, usually the larger pred, er, people sit at this end of the bar, the smaller folks usually sit on the other end” Dev explained. The three men went and fetched some smaller stools, and brought them over to join Dev and David. The two anthros made space for the humans to sit between them. Dan sat next to Dev, Joel next to David, and Bob sat between the two other men. Dev motioned to the bartender, and ordered a round of drinks for them.

“David...I gotta ask, and please don’t be offended, what is up with your guys skin?” Joel asked apologetically. David and Dev glanced at each other, then chuckled at the question.

“Well, we’re goo creatures, we’re kind of unique. You can touch my skin if you like” David offered, holding his hand out to Joel. Hesitantly, Joel reached out and poked at the palm of David’s large hand with his finger. He gasped quietly as the tip slightly sank into David’s palm before he hastily withdrew it.

“Whoa! That is so trippy!” Joel exclaimed, then reached out again, and slowly ran his hand along David’s gooey forearm.

“Would you like to touch my skin?” Dev asked Dan, offering his arm to the man. Dan ran his hand along Dev’s forearm, then was shocked when his hand suddenly sank into the gooey flesh, trapping it.

“Oh crap!” Dan said in a panic, as he tried to yank his hand away. Dev laughed, and let Dan’s hand slide free.

“Don’t panic, I was just teasing you” Dev said with a laugh as Dan examined his hand.

“Wow, that feels so weird! There isn’t even any residue or anything stuck to my hand!” Dan said in surprise. “You want to touch his arm Bob?”

“I’m good, thanks though” Bob replied with a nervous chuckle. Joel laughed on Bob’s other side as his hand sank into David’s forearm before he pulled it free again. A sense of unease began to settle over Bob, and he took a large gulp of his drink.

As the night went by, Dev and David treated their new human friends to round after round of drinks. The three men had become quite drunk, but due to Dev and David’s unique physiology, the alcohol barely had any effect on them. Dan and Joel couldn’t seem to get enough of running their hands over Dev and David’s gooey flesh, and Dev decided it was finally time to make their move.

“Hey guys, I have a private room out back. What do you say we move this party back there?” Dev offered.

“What! You’ve had a private room this whole time, and we’ve been out here drinking at the bar? Let’s go!” Dan exclaimed in a slurred voice.

“Yea! Let’s do it! You down Bob?” Joel asked. Bob had been drinking just as much as his friends, so his unease had faded as the night went by.

“Sure, why not?” Bob agreed. The group got up and followed Dev to his private room. Bob took a quick glance back at the gator in the corner, then frowned. He paused and looked back again. When he had first glanced, the gator’s head had been thrown back as they massaged their bulging throat. When he turned to look again, the gator was rubbing their belly as their thick tongue snaked out to lick along their muzzle. The gator’s eyes met Bob’s and they grinned sinisterly at him. The man that had been with the gator earlier was nowhere to be seen.

“Did that gator just...” he started to ask, but Joel grabbed him by the arm, and dragged him along with him.

Dev’s private room had a massive couch running along the back of it, and a TV mounted on the opposite wall. The couch was sized for Dev, so David and Dev helped the men to hoist themselves up to sit on it. Dev and David sat at each end, with the men between them like at the bar. Bob found himself in the middle again, and Dan was with Dev, and Joel was next to David again. David casually draped his arm around Joel’s shoulders, who leaned against the gooey wolf’s side. Dan was rubbing his hand along Dev’s gooey thigh. Bob sighed, and pulled out his phone. He always seemed to be the odd one out when he hung out with Dan and Joel. David leaned down, and gave the side of Joel’s face a slow lick, then waited to gauge Joel’s reaction. In response, Joel eagerly reached for David’s head, and pulled him down into a kiss. Bob gave them a sidelong glance, then rolled his eyes.

“Geez, sorry about Joel. He wanted to hook up with an anthro, but at least it looks like your friend is into it” Dan said to Dev.

“Hey, no worries! That’s why I brought you guys back here, to have a good time!” Dev said with a grin. They glanced back at David and Joel to see that David had slid his large hand into Joel's pants as he dominated the smaller man's mouth with his tongue. Joel moaned quietly around the tongue filling his mouth, and partially sliding down his throat. David pulled his tongue from Joel's mouth with a noisy slurp, and Dan's was shocked to see how impossibly long it was. David licked his muzzle, his long tongue curling over the top of it, then leaned back down to slide it back into Joel's mouth. David slipped his hand out of Joel's pants, and began undoing his belt. If Joel noticed, he didn't object in the slightest. Dev and Dan watched as David slipped Joel's pants down, while Bob stole sidelong glances at the scene unfolding next to him.

"Jeez guys, get a room" Bob muttered under his breath, but kept stealing glances. The tip of David's red cock began to slide from its large gooey sheath. Dan turned his attention from the scene unfolding on the other end of the couch back to Dev.

"Looks like he's getting his wish to hook up with an anthro fulfilled!" Dan said with a laugh. Dev laughed in agreement, and what Dan saw in Dev's mouth when he had laughed piqued his curiosity.

"Hey, this might sound weird, but can you open your mouth again? I'm curious about something" Dan asked.

"Certainly!" Dev replied, and obliged Dan by opening his jaws widely. Strings of drool dripped from Dev's teeth, and his long tongue unfurled, hanging halfway down his chest. Dan climbed up onto Dev's lap for a closer look into his mouth. He grimaced slightly as Dev's foul smelling breath wafted over him, but still brought his face closer.

"Oh, wow! There's a second row of teeth in there! I thought it was my imagination!" Dan said in awe, then laughed when Dev playfully flicked his tongue out to lick over his face. He was distracted from Dev's mouth by Joel's pleased moan from the other side of the couch, barely noticing as Dev gently gripped his legs as he looked back at his friend and the wolf. Joel was in David's lap, and the wolf's cock was buried deeply inside him. All that could be seen of it was the bulging knot as David thrust his hips against the smaller human. Bob had stopped pretending to ignore them, and openly watched as David had his way with Joel. With a loud grunt, David forced his knot into Joel, causing him to cry out. David leaned down to lick the side of Joel's face as he continued thrusting his hips, one of his large hands slid up to grip Joel's throat. The man's eyes were practically rolled back in his head from pleasure. Bob's mouth hung open slightly as he watched, then he flinched in surprise when Dev's tail began to coil loosely around his waist. Bob looked back at Dev, who gave him a flirty wink as more of his tail slowly curled around the man. Bob blushed slightly, then turned back to watch David and Joel. David gritted his teeth, and gave a final rough thrust. Joel's belly visibly began to expand as the wolf pumped his load into him. David sighed contentedly, then lifted Joel from his member. There was an audible pop, and Joel gasped with pleasure as it came free from him, then came messily himself. A torrent of semen spilled from Joel's abused ass and into David's lap, but his gooey flesh quickly reabsorbed it. Joel laid back against David's chest, sweating and breathing heavily.

"Holy shit that was amazing!" Joel said tiredly, closing his eyes as he cuddled into David's chest.

"Glad you liked it" David replied with a chuckle, and curled his arms around the man. Between what he had just seen between David and Joel, and the feeling of more and more of Dev's long tail gently curling around him, Bob's cock had become painfully hard. He was debating asking David about taking a turn with him himself, when he realized that Joel was slowly sinking into the gooey flesh of David's chest. Joel didn't seem to be aware until he was almost completely engulfed. His eyes flew open and he began to struggle in the grip of David's gooey flesh.

"Whoa, David! I'm sinking!" Joel cried out in alarm. He tried to pull free, but he was stuck like a bug in sap.

"Shh, just relax..." David said soothingly to him, as Joel continued sinking into him. Joel was anything but relaxed, and continued to fight, but he was no match as David's gooey flesh clung to him. In just a few seconds, Joel's eyes widened with fear, then he sank completely out of sight inside of David. A few bubbles rose to the surface where his head had vanished. Bob was speechless as he watched David's flesh stretching as Joel struggled from within. An ominous gurgling came from David's stomach, and the struggles from within grew more frantic, then gradually slowed, before stopping completely. David grinned at Bob as his long tongue slithered slowly across his muzzle. In fear, Bob turned to Dev and Dan, and was about to tell them what happened, but his words died with a groan. As Bob and Dan had been distracted by watching David and Joel, Dev had quickly lowered his head, and lifted Dan by his legs into his jaws. Dev's long tongue had extended to coil around Dan's head, muffling his surprised exclamations. Bob hadn't heard a thing. Dan had struggled vainly in the grip of the large dragon as he had been slid further into his jaws. It was getting difficult to breathe with Dev's long tongue wrapped tightly around his head. When it finally unwound from his head, he gasped for air, then instantly regretted it as he got a lungful of Dev's foul smelling breath. He cried out in fear when he saw the opening of Dev's throat right in front of his face, its slick walls quivering in anticipation.

"Please don't do this!" Dan begged fearfully. In response Dev shoved him further into his mouth, the dragon's tongue curling tightly around his thrashing legs to still them, as Dan's head and shoulders began to squeeze down Dev's throat. Bob shivered in terror as his friend's muffled pleas for mercy were ignored. Dev simply tilted his head back, and with a noisy slurping sound, sucked the rest of Dan's legs into his mouth. Bob watched in horror as a large struggling bulge moved down Dev's throat. Dev reached up to slowly massage the bulge, easing the passage of his prey. Dev lowered his head as the bulge vanished, sighing loudly. His belly expanded slightly as Dan slid into it, and he began slowly rubbing it as it gurgled loudly. Bob could faintly make out the muffled cries for help from within. He flinched as Dev belched loudly, then shivered when he felt the dragon's tail constrict even tighter around him as he moaned with fear.

"So, flip a coin for him?" David asked, eyeing Bob hungrily.

“It seems you’ve mastered absorbing your prey directly, very impressive! Have you ever taken any prey...up the back?” Dev asked, then grinned mischievously.

”Well...I haven’t really tried. Mostly I’ve been absorbing my prey directly, seems to work best for me” David replied.

“You should give it a try! If you aren’t in a rush, may as well take your time and make it pleasureable...why not give it a try now? It’s much easier with willing prey, but I’ll keep him restrained for you” Dev offered. Bob wasn’t entirely sure what they were talking about, but he didn’t like the sounds of it. David looked at him consideringly, then shrugged.

”Sure, why not?” David agreed. Bob quivered with fear as David stood up, then maneuvered himself to stand over him. The wolf lifted their tail, revealing a purple quivering asshole.

“Wait! What are you going to do to me?” Bob asked with a terrified quiver in his voice.

“Don’t worry, it won’t hurt a bit! You might even enjoy it!” Dev assured him. Bob began to struggle, but was held firmly by Dev’s tail coiled tightly around him.

“Here goes nothing!” David said, and began squatting.

“Just focus on relaxing your asshole, once you get the head in, your instincts should kick in” Dev advised.

“Please, no!” Bob cried out, but his protests were silenced as David’s expanding asshole slurped onto his face. The musky odor was overpowering, and Bob tried to pull his head away, but it was firmly stuck in the quivering orifice. David exhaled slowly as he did his best to relax, and lowered himself further. With another lewd slurp, Bob’s entire head disappeared inside of David.

“The shoulders are going to be tricky! Just focus on opening up wider!” Dev told him. David nodded, and did as he was advised. But try as he might, he just couldn’t seem to get over Bob’s shoulders. Bob was starting to get a bit light headed from the lack of air, and David’s asshole clamped tightly around his neck.

“Gah! I can’t do it!” David said in frustration, and stood up, freeing Bob’s head with a wet slurping sound. Bob gasped greedily for fresh air, his head was coated in a foul smelling residue. Dev laughed and shook his head.

“Let me show you how it’s done!” Dev offered, and stood up. Bob was still dazed, when suddenly Dev’s backside lowered onto his head. He didn’t even have a chance to cry out before his head was once again engulfed into another foul smelling orifice. Using his tail, Dev crammed Bob further inside, his tailhole slurping easily over the man’s shoulders. He laid back on the couch on his side, giving David a front row view. The wolf watched with interest as Dev’s tail slowly unwrapped from the struggling man as he was effortlessly drawn further inside of Dev. Bob’s muffled cries of fear could be faintly heard as he disappeared up to his waist in Dev’s tailhole. With another quiet grunt from the dragon, he was sucked in up to his knees. Dev sighed with pleasure, pausing for a moment to enjoy the feeling of his prey squirming inside him. His cock began to slide from his sheath. Bob’s legs kicked helplessly, then with a final lewd slurping sound, they were sucked completely inside. Dev’s tailhole clamped tightly shut, a dribble of fluid ran from the quivering orifice. Dev’s tongue lolled from the side of his jaws as he rolled onto his back, then reached down and began to stroke himself.

“Damn, you make it look so easy!” David said admiringly.

“It will be easy for you too when you get a bit larger” Dev said encouragingly. David eyed Dev’s cock hungrily, his tongue slithering out across his muzzle. It had been a long time since he had felt it inside him. Dev grinned at David when he saw him eyeing his member, then beckoned him closer. David didn’t hesitate, and crawled onto Dev, giving the dragon’s face an affectionate lick. Dev’s belly was still bulging slightly from his meal, and David could feel Dan still squirming within as he straddled it.

“Still haven’t digested him yet?” David asked, slightly surprised.

“No, I was saving him. I thought you would enjoy feeling his squirms while we fucked!” Dev replied.

“That does sound hot!” David agreed. Wasting no time, the wolf reached back and eagerly took Dev’s cock in his hand, and quickly lined it up with himself. David had never experienced sex with Dev at his usual size, he had been much too small prior to becoming the goo wolf he was today. In the past, Dev would reduce his size closer to David’s when they had had sex. Granted David was larger now, Dev’s cock would have still proved a challenge for somebody his current size. But fortunately his gooey body was much more stretchable than his old one. Regardless, David still gritted his teeth and hissed slightly as the large pointed tip sank into him. Dev sighed with pleasure, and rubbed David’s thighs. Dan was squirming up a storm between being tightly squeezed by Dev’s stomach, and the weight of David on top of him. Bob was also still putting up quite a fight in Dev’s nether regions. Between the feeling of David’s ass tightly gripping his cock, and the struggling prey within him, Dev’s knot had barely slipped into David before his orgasm washed over him. Dev groaned loudly as he came, David’s own orgasm soon followed as he rubbed his cock against Dev’s belly, and the squirming prey inside of it. Dev had been right about how good the struggles of his prey would feel, as his load spilled out onto Dev’s chest, where it was quickly absorbed. Dev decided it was time, and his stomach rumbled and gurgled loudly as Dan was drenched in digestive fluids. His struggles intensified briefly, but quickly died down as he melted away. Bob was in the process of making the slow trip through Dev’s intestines where he would eventually share Dan’s fate. Most likely he would encounter some of his friend’s sludgy remains coming in the opposite direction during his journey. David laid himself on Dev’s chest, the dragon’s cock still buried deeply within him. Dev leaned forward and gave the wolf an affectionate lick across his forehead, then settled back. He hoped David would hang around for a while, tonight had been just the beginning of the fun they could have together.
